A Pleasant Retreat.

To be sold at public vendue.

By order of the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County on the 17th day of the fourth month next. at 7 o'clock in the evening, at the Merchants Coffee house, in Philadelphia.

The following described capital house and lots situated in Potts Town, about 36 miles from Philadelphia, being part of the estate of Thomas Mayburry, deceased.

The Mansion house standing on the Main streets, built with stone and the best materials, commodiously divided into rooms and well finished throughout—with an airy entry and good cellars, forty-two feet in front and thirty six feet in depth—adjoining is a Stone Piazza, stove room and kitchen with lodging rooms over them—a well of good water in the yard—and a stone milk house with a smoke house over it—a good garden, &c. on the south end of the lot are a brew house, carriage house and a large stone barn—with extensive stables for horses, cows &c.

This estate would accommodate a large genteel family inclining to retire into the country. Potts Town being one of the cheapest places for provisions within the same distance from Philadelphia—and for healthy situation, conveniences of stages, &c is equal to most inland towns in Pennsylvania.

With the foregoing premises will be sold, a Lot of excellent CLOVER LAND, adjoining the Barn, containing about three Acres, in which are a number of Apple Trees.

JACOB PERKINS,

HAVING invented an effectual check for detecting counterfeit Bank Paper, which has received the sanction of one Bank, and the approbation of the undersigned eminent artists, and having obtained a patent, securing to him, and to his assigns, the exclusive right of the invention, hereby offers to his fellow citizens the privilege of using it upon terms, to be agreed on between him and any person disposed to avail themselves of a guard against counterfeits.

THE undersigned having examined Jacob Perkin's new invented method to detect counterfeit Bank paper, do approve of the plan, it being impossible to engrave or sink two plates perfectly alike, without the original die or hub, the counterfeiter would find it impossible to make an impression which would perfectly gage with the check from the original die.

march 18. 1aw3w

New Philadelphia.

THE proprietors of the high ground in the neighbourhood of this city, known by the name of Springettsbury Manor; (bounded on the west by the river Schuylkill, on the east by Fourth street, from Schuylkill, on the north by Francis's lane, and on the south by Callowhill street) have agreed to appropriate it for the purpose of building a new city as a summer retreat.

The plan in two sections may be seen at the Coffee house. The main street, 100 feet wide, runs nearly east and west along the top of the ridge, striking Schuylkill a little above the upper ferry, where nature has placed everlasting abbatments, and stone in abundence to form a permanent bridge of one arch, that cannot be approached by ice or floods.

A street of 66 feet wide, is laid out on each side of, and parallel to the Main street. These are crossed by five new streets at right angles, and by the continuation of Front, Second, Third and Fourth-streets from Schuylkill.

The situation is high, airy and healthy, and commands an extensive prospect. The water is good.

The canal runs obliquely through it.

It is just a sufficient distance from the Delaware for a pleasant walk, to give an appetite to dinner after the business of the day is over.

April 3. t8at.

To be sold at Public Vendue,

On Saturday next the 13th inst. at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises,

One hundred and eleven of the highest and best situated Lots in the New Town,

Each containing 30 feet front, and about 200 deep. The whole is situated on the west side of Fourth Street from Schuylkill, on the high ground opposite Bush Hill gardens, agreeably to a plan at the Coffee House, and at the old city Auction Store.

To accommodate purchasers, one lot will be put up at a time, and the buyer will have the right to take as many adjoining, as he may think proper, at the same rate. The terms are, one third cash, approved notes at three months for the remainder, when deeds clear of all incumbrances, will be given

Sales at Auction.

On Saturday the 20th April, at 2 o'clock P. M. on the premises,

Sundry Building and Garden Lots,

Some of them contigious to, and others at a small distance from the city, containing from about one quarter of an acre to about four acres each. The small lots front on Vine and Callowhill Streets, near Schuylkill—the large lots front on the south side of Francis Street, on the east side of Schuylkill river, on the west side of Schuylkill, second street, and on intermediate streets—the whole containing about 140 acres, being part of the tract known by the name of Springettsbury.

The situation of many of the lots is on high ground, commanding views of the Schuylkill, and supposed to be so much detached from the built parts of the city, as to be out of danger in case of an unhappy return of the fever.

Maps shewing the division of the ground, may be seen at the Coffee-house, at Ogden's tavern in Chesnut street, at Sybert's tavern in the Nothern Liberties, and at the Middle and Upper Ferries on Schuylkill.

The abundance of stone, for building, on part of the ground, will prove very advantageous to purchasers, as it is proposed to sell at the same time those large quarries on the east side of the Schuylkill, near and above the bridge.

The terms will be cash for the lots of 49 1-2 and 50 feet front, and for those of a larger size one half cash immediately, and the other half to be paid in six months from the day of sale.

One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the Subscriber, on Tuesday the second of this inst. April, living in Kent county, Maryland, near Chester Town, the following described Negroes, viz. William, about 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high, a yellowish complexioned fellow, about thirty years of age, formerly the property of doctor William Matthews, he has been very much given to running away, and has been so often described in the public papers within this twelve months that any further description of him seems needless.—Jacob, about 6 feet high, and about 32 years of age, of a common Negroe complection, down look, his little finger of his left hand stands straight, occasioned by the cut of a sickle. Patt, the wife of said Jacob, about 27 years of age, a small light made woman of a yellowish complection, with thick lips for an American of her stature, she is a very good needle woman, and spins on either small or great wheel, and is very handy in any common house work.—Two children of the said Jacob's and Patt's, the one a male child about four years old, the other a female child about two years old. The above described Negroes took with them, besides their own wearing apparel, three coats, two of which were linsey cloth of a light grey color, both new; one of the two was a great deal too large for either of the said fellows; the other coat of brown cloth, half worn; three under jackets, one a velvet, another a drab, the other a light colored linsey cloth do, one new pair of Calf skin shoes, lined with linnen and bound with leather, one pair of boots remarkably large in the legs, several pairs of stockings and a silver watch, all stolen: their own wearing apparel as follows—William had on a light-horse regimental coat worked with silver twist, (which coat he had when he was brought home to me the first of February last, a round sailor jacket (blue,) thickset breeches, patched with corduroy in the stride, with other necessary clothing. Jacob, two linsey cloth coatees, lead colored, one new the other half worn, blue linsey cloth jacket, half worn, two pairs of linsey cloth trowsers, of a lead colour, the one new the other half worn, tolerable good shoes and stockings. Patt has every day cloathing, and her children wore home-made linen and linsey, her other cloathing not so well known; it is uncertain which course they may take, as William is such an experienced coaster.

Any person or persons apprehending said negroes or sounding them, so that their master may get them again, shall be entitled to the above reward, or in proportion for either of them, that is to say, 40 dollars for each of the fellows, and twenty dollars for the wench and children, and if brought home, all reasonable charges paid by

PHILADELPHIA,

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9.

MR. FENNO,

THE Captain and passengers of the Ship Thomas Wilson, having once more obtruded themselves on the patience of the public, and falsely presumed to question the veracity of the statement—(which they say, was ingeniously inserted after the attestation before the mayor) and which declared that Dr. Hall, had told me that capt Jones, was sick of the yellow fever.

I request that you will publish the subjoined affidavit, as a conclusive answer, to this second attempt at imposition, on the part of Messrs. Jones, Williams, Brown, Baily, and Gravelle.

It will be observed, that Dr. Hall, conversed with me separated from Mr. Milnor and Mr. Hopkins—and that his information was given to us, after he had visited the ship.—Any difference therefore, in his report to the Health Office, or subsequent denial of his information to us, he may reconcile as he thinks proper, with the annexed attestations, which have been made with a view to give complete satisfaction, to the citizens of Philadelphia, on a subject in which they are deeply interested—not as a necessary refutation, either of Dr. Hall's denial—or of the assertions of Captain Jones, and his passengers who appear to distinguish very nicely between a declaration on oath and on honor.—An honest man believes them to be of equal obligation.

Of the assertions which have been made by these men, and of their respectability, a correct opinion may be formed, by considering that in all of them, which related to myself, they have been pointedly contradicted on the oaths or affirmations of several honest men. And yet such are the means, which minister to defamation, that the most contemptible may find circulation of their calumny, though composed of the grossest falshood, and that falshood evidently subversive of the precautions taken to guard the public health.

WILLIAM JACKSON.

The subscriber declares that after Doctor Hall had visited the ship Thomas Wilson on the morning of the 23d of March, he asked the Doctor what ailed the captain, and was answered that he had the Yellow Fever.

W. JACKSON.

Sworn and subscribed before me, April 6, 1799. } ROBERT WHARTON, Mayor.

In the course of conversation between Mr. Hopkins, Dr. Hall, and myself, on the subject of the ship Thomas Wilson, after the Doctor had visited and ordered her down the river, the doctor's opinion respecting her situation was asked, he replied that the captain had had a bad fever at Petit Guave, that he had a relapse at Jamaica, had caught cold on the passage and again relapsed—that it was highly improper he should come up before she was visited; he stated that soon after he had come on shore he met one of the members of the Assembly, that he mentioned to him that he had just been visiting a ship, the captain of which had the Yellow Fever, that the member of Assembly was off from him like a shot—from the whole of Dr. Hall's conversation I had no doubt that his opinion was, that the fever the captain had was a relapse of the yellow fever.

ISAAC MILNOR.

Affirmed and subscribed before me, April 6th, 1799. } ROBERT WHARTON, Mayor.

In addition to the foregoing statement to which I affirm and subscribe, I do also affirm that Dr. Hall told me expressly he had no doubt that the captain had the yellow fever.

MAYOR'S COURT.

April Sessions.

Commonwealth, vs. John M'Gurk. } Assault on—HILLIARD.

Mr. Hilliard sworn.

About the last of February or beginning of March, I was in Mr. Fenno's office, between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening, writing at the desk, when I was alarmed by the furious entrance of two persons, one armed with a club, the other, M'Gurk, armed with a drawn sword—the one with a club, brandished it over my head, and asked me if my name was Fenno; I assured him it was not; he continued to shake his club over my head, and then asked me where that damned rascal and poltroon was—M'Gurk said, Fenno should or would (I am not certain which) suffer, if he did not desist from his abusive publications against his (M'Gurk's) country: he did not me threaten, but frequently threatened Mr. Fenno.

Quest. Had M'Gurk a scabbard with him?

A. No Sir, his sword was drawn, and he had no scabbard with him.

Q. Was the door open, and did they knock previous to their entrance?

A. The front door was open, the office door was shut, they did not knock, but rushed in, in a furious manner, and before I had time to speak, one of them brandished his club.

Before the mayor next morning, M'Gurk, I conceive supposing I could not know him, asked me, if I had ever seen him before: I told him I had—he then said, sooner than disclose the name of his companion, he would bear all the consequences himself.

Q. Which entered the office first?

A. They appeared to rush in together, the one did not appear to me to advance farther than the other, I cannot say which, if either, entered first.

M'G. Did I, Mr. H. in any way offend you?

A. Most certainly your manner did offend me.

M'G. Was the sword offensively in my hand?

A. It was——as they went out they muttered something, which I believe was, that they would call again.

M'G. Did you believe I came with an offensive intent?

A. Most certainly I do.

M'GURK then observed, that he had left his sword at Mr. Morrow's to have it cleaned, that he had that evening called for it and received it, that he was returning home, met his friend at the corner, and they went into Mr. Fenno's together, but that he (M'G.) behaved there in a peaceable manner. To prove that he had received his sword at Mr. Morrow's he produced Mr. Thomas Lalor as a witness.

Thomas Lalor Sworn.

A Mr. Huston left a sword at Morrow's to be cleaned, and then to be delivered when called for to Mr. M'Gurk—Mr. M'Gurk called for it, and I delivered it to him.

Q. What day was it you delivered the sword to Mr. M'Gurk?

A. I don't know.

Q. What time in the day?

A. It was in the afternoon.

Q. Had the sword a scabbard with it?

A. It had a scabbard with it.

Mr. Porter on the part of the Commonwealth then made some observations to the Jury on the frequency of those attacks on gentlemen in their houses with views best known, he said, to those who make such attacks, but he thought that such outrages on the peace of society had now become so common, it was high time a stop should be put to them, and that their authors should not escape with impunity.

He made a number of observations on the testimony, and stated in a clear manner that the evidence of Mr. Lalor did not go in the least to exculpate the defendant, that Mr. Lalor delivered him a sword he did not doubt—but the sword was delivered to M'Gurk on the day when he entered Mr. Fenno's office was not proved by the witness, on the contrary, the witness swore that he delivered the sword in the afternoon and with a scabbard—and it was proved by Mr. H. that the assault was committed in the evening, and that M'Gurk had no scabbard with the sword—he observed that from the evidence before them, he did not doubt but that the jury would be of opinion with him, that M'Gurk was equally guilty with his friend.

THE RECORDER addressed the jury and delivered a clear, handsome & correct charge—he observed that it seems to have been the intent of the person entering Mr. Fenno's office in the manner they did, to have committed an act perhaps of a very different nature from that with which the defendant is charged—that had Mr. Fenno happened to have been in his office on that evening, he did not know what event might have taken place—His Honor then re-capitulated the testimony, after which he gave it as his opinion that M'Gurk was in the eye of the law equally guilty with his companion, and indeed that he was the most alarming character of the two, having a drawn sword in his hand—and that if the jury saw the testimony in this point of view, they would say that M'Gurk is guilty of the assault with which he is charged.—Verdict GUILTY.

PARIS, Dec. 17.

CONGRESS at RASTADT.

Bulletin of the 13th Nivose, (Jan. 2.)

Note from the French ministers to the Deputation of the Empire.

"The undersigned ministers plenipotentiary of the French republic do make this formal declaration to the deputation of the empire, that if the diet of Ratisbon should consent to the entry of the Russian troops on the territory of the empire, or if even it does not effectually oppose it, the march of the Russian army through the German territory, will be regarded as a violation of neutrality on the part of the empire; that the negociation at Rastadt will be broken off, and that the republic and the empire will then be in the same relative situation in which these two powers were, previously to the signing of the preliminaries at Leoban, and the conclusion of the armistice.

"To this declaration, dictated by the importance of the circumstance, the undersigned add with pleasure the express assurance of their government for the tranquility and satisfaction of the empire, both of the sincere desire it has that an incident so unforeseen as that which is the object of this note, and which might become so destructive of the tranquility of the interior of Germany, may not take place to destroy the hopes, almost realized, of a perfect reconciliation, and of a perpetual peace between the two nations.

"No one can be deceived as to the motives and the aim of the cabinet of Petersburgh. The deputation of the empire particularly is too well acquainted with the affairs of Europe not to perceive clearly that Russia, after having promoted the war six years, without taking a part in it, now takes such open measures of aggression against France, for the purpose of interrupting the pacification of the continent, and with a view not less evident of covering the grand usurpation, she has so long meditated.

"The undersigned, therefore, do not doubt that the deputation will see in this proceeding on the part of the French government, a further proof of its pacific sentiments, and an opportunity for the empire, in avoiding a personal danger, to acquire additional claims to the friendship of the republic.

"Rastadt, 13th Nivose of the French republic. "BONNIER.
"JEAN DEBRY.
"ROBERJOT."

January 4.

The deputation deliberated in yesterday's sitting, upon the last French note, dated the 13th Nivose, (the 2d inst.)

Saxony, Austria, Hanover and Wurtzburg, have simply voted for referring that note to the diet at Ratisbon, and communicating its tenor to his Imperial majesty. Baden was of the same opinion, but proposed, at the same time, to declare in answer to the French legation:

"That the deputation of the empire has received with the most lively pleasure, the assurance given by the French government of the continuation of its pacific sentiments towards the German empire which the deputation on its part, will use every effort to maintain; and that it consequently hopes the negociation for peace between the two states will on no account be interrupted."

Though Darmstadt, Augsbourg, Frankfort, and Mentz, supported the proposition, it was not acceded to by the majority. On the proposition of Saxony, it was finally determined that an answer should be transmitted to the French ministers, containing however, only a simple notice. It is as follows:

Note of Count Metternich to the Ministers Plenipotentiary of the French Republic—

"The undersigned, together with the deputation for the peace of the empire, has received the note of the French ministers, dated the 13th Nivose, relative to the supposed march of a body of Russian troops upon the territory of the German empire; he immediately transmitted it to his imperial majesty. The deputation of the empire also did not fail to communicate the note without delay to the diet of Ratisbon, of which it has the honor to inform the minister plenipotentiary of the French republic, renewing at the same time, the assurances of its distinguished consideration."

Rastadt, Jan. 4, 1799.

January 9.

They write from Vienna, under date of the 26th, that the archduchess Amelia died there on the morning of the preceding day.

It seems that prince Repnin is no longer in favor with the emperor of Russia. His dismission is announced in the following terms, in the Petersburgh court gazette:—"His majesty has accepted the resignation of field marshal prince Repnin, and permits him to wear the ordinary uniform of the army."

LONDON, December 24.

We have heard of a most gallant, enterprizing and respectable officer, general Tarleton, being appointed to command in Portugal; but not of any troops which are to accompany him. Why not appropriate the thousands of Russians, which it appears Austria will not accept, to the defence of Portugal? They might be more easily transported by the Mediterranean to that service, than through Germany to the Rhine; and not merely perhaps might Portugal be saved, but Spain itself relieved, and the projected treaty of commerce established on the basis of gratitude for her deliverance.

January 11.

An imperial seat near Vienna has been fitted up for the duke of Tuscany, whose dominions must follow the fortune of those of the king of Naples.

AMBUSCADE FRIGATE.

The accounts which have reached the admiralty of the capture of this frigate differ, we understand, materially from the French accounts, with regard to the force of the enemy's corvette, which, we are informed, is stated to amount to 32 guns. The action, it is said, took place of the coast of France, on the 14th ult. and lasted, with much desperation, for some hours, when the enemy succeeded in boarding the Ambuscade, from her foremast being badly wounded, and falling on board the French vessel so as to serve the republicans as a bridge to pass over. The Bayonnais had on board three hundred picked troops, independent of her full compliment of seamen, which gave her a decided superiority over the British ship. The prize was sent into Rochefort.

Capt. Jenkins was desperately wounded early in the action, but we are happy to hear that great hopes are entertained of his recovery, as well as that of lieutenant Sinclair, of the marines. As soon as it is deemed safe to remove them, a cartel will bring them to England on their parole.

January 16.

General Montesquieu, formerly the marquis de Montesquieu, died at Paris on the 28th of last month. France owes to him the conquest of Savoy.

January 17.

The French directory, as our readers know have demanded from the court of Madrid the Walloon and Swiss guards, which are known to be the most effective troops in the service of Spain; there is no doubt but an artful policy lurks under this demand, and that it is the first step in a new scheme of operations, by which they mean to outmanœuvre our ministers in their negociation with that court. Their ingenuity is deep in this sort of management, and it behoves our government to be more on the alert, if they mean to retain the footing they have obtained.

The end of their demand of this effective force is, that they may reduce the court of Madrid to a mere abject dependance upon them, by which they may dictate to his majesty their own terms. Their first view, after controuling the Spanish monarchy, is to seize upon Portugal, for the great purpose of depriving us of the advantage of the port of Lisbon as the rendezvous of our fleet, and this accomplished, they will again contend with us for the navigation of the Mediterranean.

This may be said to be taking a very wide out-look of future events. It is so: but the speculation is not improbable; and an attentive spectator will see ground for the conjecture. If it depended on the gallantry of our marine to prevent it, we should not attach the slightest importance to their intrigues at Madrid. But they know better than to try the fate of a battle with earl St. Vincent. Their intrigue is not to force the Spanish fleet out to sea in the first instance, by which it would to a certainty be annihilated, but, by weakening the Spaniards, they think they may be able to crush Portugal, and thus, by depriving us of a port in that quarter, make it impossible for us to keep the seas, as the bay of Gibraltar affords no safe anchorage, and Minorco itself cannot for a considerable space of time, perhaps not for two years, give us the means of refitting a squadron there.

In schemes of this kind, it is every thing to anticipate the blow; and if our ministers have not taken some bold and decisive measure for the safety of Portugal, they will be as unfortunate there as they have been at Naples. It is by snatching that kingdom from our alliance, that the French hope again to drive us out of the Mediterranean, and to make the battle of the Nile only eminent for its splendor, but not for its use.

January 22.

Another mail from Dublin arrived this morning by which we have received papers and letters of the 16th and 18th inst.

In the county of Clare, it appears, an engagement has taken place between the insurgents and the military; for the Dublin Journal says, "By the latest accounts from Innis, we learn that troops have marched from Limerick against the insurgents in that neighbourhood; a short conflict took place, in which the rebels were totally routed and dispersed: several of their leaders have been taken, among others the infamous Burke, who was expelled the college of Dublin for blasphemy; and O'Gorman, who, at the instigation of the editor of The Press, engaged last March in the plan to assassinate Mr. Macartney, and was for that and other crimes expelled the college. Burke has been hanged at Ennis; O'Gorman is in Limerick gaol. The country is nearly quieted by this timely interference of the military power."

January 25.

When Ledyard, the celebrated American traveller, was at Cairo, he wrote to the President of the royal society, for the express purpose of pointing out to him the expediency of Great Britain's taking possession of Egypt, in order to prevent its being seized upon by some other European power, which with the spirit of prophecy, he declared he considered as an event that could not fail to take place ere many years should elapse. After discanting upon its extraordinary advantages of soil and situation, he urged as a particular incentive to its conquest, the existence in the country of near fifty thousand free traders, who would join and support any power that should undertake to rid them of the oppression and plunder they suffered from the beys. Ledyard's letter was, by his own desire, communicated to his majesty's ministers, but was not attended to. They thought, it no doubt, neither moral nor political to attack the sublime Porte without any plausible pretence for war.

We have already communicated to our readers, that the French have established a National Institute at Cairo. The building appropriated for the purpose is two palaces of the beys, and two houses belonging to rich private persons. "In these," says the writer of a letter from Egypt, "all the artists and learned men live. They furnish us perhaps, with more conveniencies, and at least with as much magnificence, as the Louvre. An immense garden, of nearly 35 French acres, well planted, with high terraces, which are never overflowed by the Nile, is destined to botanical and other cultivations.

"The hall of assembly is decorated with the richest French furniture found among the Mamelukes: among them is one of the largest and handsomest pendulums of Berthoud, and a vase of Japan of very great size. I am employed in collecting all the curious animals which, I am told, are in the houses of the Mamelukes. Our aviary is already completed."

January 26.

The Swedish frigate Thetis lately liberated two Swedish merchantment in the port of Malaga, brought there by French privateers. In reward for this, the King of Sweden promoted the captain to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Extract of a private leter from Dublin, dated January 21

"It is a curious circumstance, and for which I cannot by any means account, that within these few days there has not been a mask (or vizor) in the city of Dublin, that is not said to have been bought up. Conjecture is very busy on the occasion. It connects with the circumstance some plan of assassination—some senate house scene, wherein the Brutus's and Cassius's of the land are to play their parts. The rumours that are afloat are most strange and various.

"It is confirmed, that captain Armstrong of the King's county militia, who was principal prosecutor against the Sheare's has been assassinated: two accounts, however, are circulated respecting this business—one of them stating that he was shot, and the other that he has been burned to death in a lime kiln."

By this Day's Mail.

BALTIMORE, April 6.

Extract of a letter from Port-au-Prince to a gentleman in this city, dated Jan. 30.

"The greatest tranquility reigns here at present; people walk in the city, on the plain or mountain, as in times of peace: There is very little business doing, and agriculture is almost entirely neglected; but for these some days past, affairs have worn a better aspect. Flour is from 24 to 30 dollars, and wine from 100 to 130 dollars per barrel.

"The trade carried on with Aux Cayes and Jacmel (the part under the command of general Rigaud) is in a most flourishing situation. There have arrived in the latter place, three ships from Europe, very richly laden, which have furnished us with every thing we were in want of.

"General Toussaint has been here for these eight or ten days past; with citizen Roume, who is to replace Hedouville, and we hope all will be well.

"There has been a meeting here of all the generals of the colony, who have formed a confederation, there has been a great rejoicing.

"Feb. 19. Some inquietude was manifested here this day on account of advices received from France; but Mr. M. of Leogane, who arrived in 39 days, announced that all was well, and a peace was expected to take place this spring. There has been a French frigate at the Cape for a month past, arrived there from France, having on board nearly half a million in specie.

TRENTON, April 8.

On Tuesday last the circuit court of the United States, for the district of New-Jersey, commenced its session in this city.

JUDGE IREDELL delivered to the Grand Jury a truly patriotic charge. After some general reflections, on the relative situation between the United States and France, the learned Judge went into a defence of the alien and sedition laws, and proved them, it is believed to the satisfaction of every unprejudiced mind, to be perfectly consistent with the principles of the constitution, and to be founded on the wisest maxims of policy. The Judge concluded with calling the attention of the grand jury to the present situation of the country, and with remarks on the mild and virtuous administration of the government.

The grand jury having completed their service, returned into court, and presented the following resolution:

"Resolved (with only one dissenting voice) That this grand jury do entirely approve of the observations and sentiments contained in the charge of the court, as well as of the alien and sedition acts particularly noticed therein, which, in our opinion, the late and present critical situation of our country rendered indispensable."

By order of the grand jury,
BENJAMIN SMITH, Foreman.

PHILADELPHIA,

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9.

A gentleman yesterday arrived in town from the camp at Quaker Town, which he left early on Sunday morning, when a party of horse, who had been out during the night, returned with several prisoners; but he did not learn either their numbers or names. It is reported, that amongst them is a clergyman, named Eyrman, who had been very industrious in preaching up opposition to the laws, and spreading sedition amongst the ignorant.

New-York, April 8.

ARRIVDD,

Ship Otsego, Peck,	Porte-Rico 19
Sultan, Clement,	Alicant 50
Sch. Determined Rover,	Cuba 19
Sloop Patience, Rogers,	Philadelphia

The brig Mary, Howard, master, from this port bound to St. Sebastian, was, after 26 days passage in sight of the light house of St. Sebastian, when she was taken by the French privateer Buonaparte, and carried into Bayonne.

Captain Gad Peck, of the Otsego, 19 days from Porto Rico, informs, that three days before he sailed, a French privateer, owned by a female at Curracoa, appeared off Porto Rico, waiting, as they supposed, for the Otsego; but did not think it adviseable to approach her, she shewing self-defence in legible characters. The privateer ran into a port to the south end of Porto Rico, called La Guidella, and captured, as we were informed afterwards, the schooner Johannah, Tucker, belonging to Philadelphia, and set the crew on shore.

On the 25th spoke the brig Ann, of Charleston, out 9 days, bound to St. Bartholomews.

On the 3d inst. the Otsego arrived within the Hook; and, on the 4th, at night, parted anchor and cable, and went out 60 miles to sea. On her return, while under way, threw out the bite of her hawser, and caught the best bower anchor, which they had lost during the gale.

Captain Clement, of the ship Sultan, who arrived here yesterday, in 50 days from Alicant, from which place he sailed in company with the following vessels:

Ship Austria, of 18 guns, captain Prince, who acted in the capacity of commodore of the fleet; brig Georgia Packet, of 8 guns; brig Nancy, Williams, of 4 guns—all of Salem. Schr. Dolphin, 6 guns, of Newburyport.

Left at Alicant, the ship Portland, Peale, of Boston, bound up; brig Phœnix, Smith, of Salem; schr. Samuel Taylor, of Boston, was to sail in four days——At Altier, ship India Packet, of Boston.

Brig Diana, captain Freeman, fell in with and was captured by a French privateer of 14 guns, after a very smart engagement—would have beat her off, had not a second privateer come up and boarded him—4 Frenchmen were killed and 7 wounded—no Americans hurt.

A schooner belonging to Marblehead, capt. Grice, is taken by a French privateer, of one gun, and carried in o Malaga—People would not fight.

A ship, name unknown, of 8 guns, off Cape Pallas, fell in with a French privateer of 18 guns—after exchanging upwards of 40 or 50 shot, the privateer sheered off.

March 27 and 28, in lat. 34, long. 65, Capt. Clement experienced a very heavy gale, which obliged him to throw 12 four-pounders and their carriages, overboard—carried away some of the rigging, spars, sails, &c.

In lat. 28, 54. long 61. spoke the schooner Polly, George Collinson, of Philadelphia, bound to Martinique—out 14 days

John Richard M'Mahon, having been convicted of an assault on the person of Andrew Brown, and likewise of going to the house of the said Andrew Brown, and there challenging him to fight with pistols, the honorable Mr. Recorder, Wilcocks, yesterday, pronounced the sentence of the court, in the following concise and impressive address, to the prisoner:

JOHN RICHARD M'MAHON—You have been convicted of an assault on the person of Andrew Brown, and also of challenging the said Andrew Brown to fight you with pistols—You have taken your trial, you have had the assistance of a number of respectable counsel, and have had an opportunity of examining into, and investigating every circumstance which might tend to your acquittal—in fine, you have had a fair and impartial trial.

The circumstances of your situation were very unfavorable; the court were desirous to prevent those circumstances from having any effect on the minds of the jury, and therefore took no notice of them in their charge, it now becomes proper to take notice of those circumstances.

You have come to this country—a country abounding with every politic blessing calculated to make its inhabitants happy—to this country you have fled from what you term the oppressions of your own—but on your arrival here, you very early take a part in our concerns and conduct yourself, in a highly unbecoming manner, at a time and under circumstances that ought to claim the best demeanor on your part—From what you know and what you have heard of the mildness of our government, you surely must have observed that it deserved, it called for, it demanded your respect, and if necessary, your support—But we are sorry to say, that scarcely having been two months in this country, and not as long in this city, you have in this short space of time exhibited a conduct extremely offensive.

You called at Mr. Brown's office in the character of a messenger, to desire Mr. Brown to discontinue his paper to a subscriber; and in executing this simple, humble office, you conducted yourself in a rude, indecent, outrageous manner—On entering Mr. Brown's office, you there found his clerk, who was fully competent to transact the business on which you were sent; but this would not serve your object—Mr. Brown you must see—Mr. Brown you would see. On seeing Mr. Brown, how did you accost him?—"Are you not an impudent scoundrel for sending an Irishman a paper after abusing him?"

You then proceeded by a long course of ill-conduct, accompanied with great violence—you leaned over a stool in the office, and placing yourself in a particular position, said to Mr. B. "By G—d you must fight me."

This constituted the ASSAULT.—Mr. Brown ordered you out of his office, but to effect it he thought it necessary to produce a pistol—then, and not till then, did you retreat, though previously you were repeatedly ordered to leave his house.

On the Saturday following you returned to Mr. Brown's Office, and here again you conduct was highly exceptionable.—You wished to fight Mr. Brown with pistols—You said you had challenged him, that you were a gentleman and a man of honor, and wished to fight him as such—and when you found you could not accomplish your object, you then addressed the mob—you wished to excite them on your behalf—you told them, "that you had fought against tyranny in your own country, and were ready to fight against it here; and that you believed there was yet some little liberty left in this country"—In this manner did you, incendiary like, address CITIZENS OF PHILADELPHIA. You, sir, have nothing to do with us—with our political affairs, you have no business—and give me leave to say, that this conduct was highly exceptionable, and proves to my mind, that the cause why you left your own country, was not as you have stated. What have you to do with our Liberty? How could you have the assurance to insinuate, that we had but some little liberty yet left in this country? If foreigners look for the countenance and respect of the citizens of this country, it becomes them not to interfere with our political concerns, and at least to treat the government with decent respect.

You continued to harangue the mob; you mentioned to them the names of Fitzgerald, Tone, and others who have been objects of the law in their own country, and with whom WE have nothing to do here—You told them that you had the honor of their acquaintance, that they were gentlemen, but unfortunate—This is the manner in which you harangued the bystanders, no doubt expecting to produce some effect upon their minds; but I trust that all attempts on the good sense of the citizens of Philadelphia, by your harangues, or the harangues of THOSE DISPOSED LIKE YOURSELF, will ever have as little effect, as it has had on this occasion.—However reprehensible your conduct has been in this point of view, the court has cautiously endeavored, in the charge to the jury, to prevent its having any effect upon their minds in determining on their verdict. It is now incumbent on us to pass the sentence of the law:—The Court do, therefore, adjudge, that for the offence of giving a challenge, &c. in the words of the Act of Assembly, you shall forfeit and pay the sum of 280 dollars, or shall suffer twelve months imprisonment without bail or mainprize—and shall forfeit, and be deprived of all the rights of citizenship, for the space of seven years—pay costs of prosecution, and stand committed until this sentence be complied with.—For the assault, the court adjudge, that you pay a fine of twenty dollars, and the costs of prosecution—that you give security, yourself in 300 dollars, and one or more sureties in the like sum, to be of good behaviour and keep the peace towards all the citizens of this commonwealth—for twelve months—pay costs of prosecution, and stand committed until this sentence be complied with.

RAN away from the ſubſcriber this day, at noon, two mulatto houſe ſervants, viz Ned, but commonly called Edward among his companions, well known as the ſubſcriber's coachman and waiting man for ſeveral years in this city and in New-York—he is a tall ſtrait made mulatto with a large buſhy head of hair, about 32 years of age, has a low forehead, with ſmall eyes, a ſullen dark look and is much inclined to be abrupt and inſolent, one of his legs ſomething ſmaller than the other from a fracture in his youth; he generally wears a brown cloth coatee with red cuffs and cape and red edging, or ſuſtian with red cuffs and cape; had on when he went away an old foreſt cloth ſurtout, mix'd brown and yellow, and has a box coat of light colored drab, with red and white livery lace, but as I do not know what other clothes he had on, may change his dreſs.

Nelly, calling herſelf Wife to the before named Ned, ſhe is much above the middle ſtature, ſtrait made with falling ſhoulders, has a remarkable ferocious countenance and is very paſſionate, quarrelſome, and noiſy, ſhe is rather a fair mulatto—has loſt one or two of her front teeth, which ſhe ſupplies with wax, and has a large ſcar between her ſhoulders occaſioned by a bliſter; ſhe is about forty five years of age, has a very maſculine air in her walk, ſhe carried away with her ſeveral gowns of different colored cotton; the above reward will be given for apprehending and ſecuring them in any jail in the United States and giving notice to the ſubſcriber; or fifty dollars for ſecuring either of them.——All perſons are cautioned againſt harboring, entertaining, or concealing the above ſervants or either of them; and all maſters of veſſels and others are warned againſt carrying them from the United Stntes,
